Glass and Flexible Element Versions

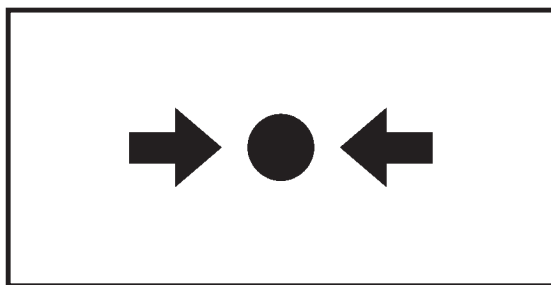

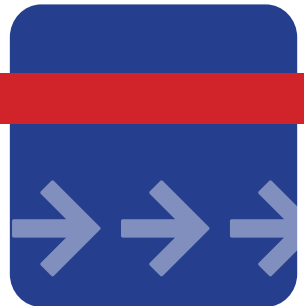

EN54 Standard

KAC call points are normally fitted with either a replaceable break glass or flexible element. This is made with standard operating instructions to EN54 Pt 11, as shown here.

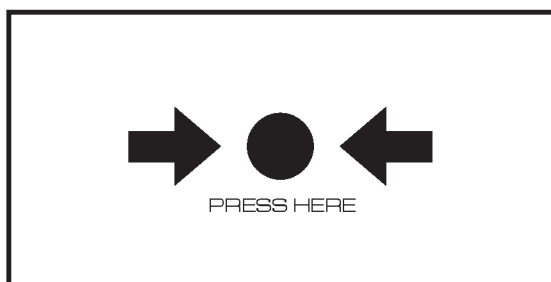

European Standard EN54 Pt 11

A wide variety of language versions are available, subject to minimum order quantities. The glass or flexible element can be manufactured to include customer name and/or logo, where this is allowed under the local prevailing standards.
